

Recruited position: (Senior) Analyst in China's financial system (80-100%)

About CMG: CMG is a small and fast-growing specialized European boutique consultancy with foundation in Switzerland and China with offices in Zurich, Munich and Beijing. It provides original, fact-based and calibrated China policy and market analysis to advise on China strategies, cooperation concepts and negotiations for European private sector, governments and investors.

Working location: Beijing, Zurich, or upon agreement

Your main value-added?

- Lead CMG's research on financial market trends, policies and regulations in particular pertaining to China's banking system, insurance market, capital market, PE/VC market, real estate market, financial market regulations including from PBOC/CBIRC/CIRC/SAMR/MOF, ESG/green finance, opening up, marketization reforms and capital controls, licensing procedures, FinTech and central bank digital currency (CBDC)
- Support fast-paced client assignments in cross-cultural settings advising on strategies for Swiss and European financial institutions including leading a team of analysts to deliver quality analysis and recommendations
- Support a bi-weekly Executive Brief with concise analysis on critical developments in China as well as lead a Financial Dashboard tracking key indices of China's financial market and system

What characterizes you?

- Relevant academic training with bachelor education in China in fields such as economics, finance or banking complemented by an international post-grad education further solidifying finance expertise highly preferred
- A minimum of 5-8 years of relevant working experience in analytical and strategic roles in analyzing China's financial market trends, policies and regulations; relevant networks in China's financial sector a strong plus
- Up-to-date thematic expertise in all key areas backed-up by practical experience especially in China, academic studies, further certificates and expertise on policy and regulatory research and advisory
- Understanding of Swiss and European banking and insurance sector and their involvement in the Chinese market and their strategic needs are strong pluses
- Strategic thinking, outstanding analytical, conceptual and problem-solving skills as well as strong quantitative skills including statistical methods and modelling
- Professional service mindset, creativity, can-do attitude, personal resourcefulness, team player, cross-cultural awareness and agility to adapt to ever changing market and client needs
- Highest level of professional ethics and ability to inspire trust in client communication and interaction
- Native-level fluency in Chinese (Mandarin) and English – basic German a plus

Working permit: for Chinese or other non-Schengen nationals with interest in working in Zurich or Munich, CMG can support the application process for the work permit; for personal queries, please email: mherrmann@chinamacro.ch

